

How does the language differ between two diaries written by public figures?

How do sports commentaries differ on TV and the radio?

An investigation into the differences of language use of people with different social class.

An investigation into how register effects lexis in Newsround and ITV News at 10.

To what extent are women's language theories appropriate to school children?

How do Katie Price and Peter Andre demonstrate power in their TV show Katie and Peter.

An investigation into the language of Jamie Oliver.

An investigation into the representation of gender in tennis sports reports in The Guardian.

An analysis of the difference between pre match and post match football interviews.

An investigation into how gender is represented in MSN conversations.

An investigation into how humour is created in the sitcom Friends.

An investigation into the language of humour in The Two Ronnies.

An analysis of character representation in Mills and Boon novels.

An investigation into the language of books written for children.

An investigation into the representation of gender in female magazine editorials.

How does the language style of radio presenters on different stations reflect their different target audiences?

How does the presentation of the news reflect the needs and interests of different audiences?

How do teachers vary the language they use according to the class they teach?

How do people in authority control and manage conversations in formal situations such as meetings?

How is language used to persuade in radio advertisements?

How does language represent and construct ideas of masculinity and femininity in magazines?