

Noun

Common
Noun

Proper
Noun

Collective Noun

Abstract
Noun

Pronoun

Subject
Pronoun

Object
Pronoun

Demonstrative
Pronoun

The name peculiar to a particular person, place, or thing given a capital letter: Jennifer, Lutterworth, Sunday

A name common to all members of a large class of people, animal, or things: man, cat, table, town, friend, sentence, apple.

A noun is a word that is used to name any person, animal, thing, idea, state, or quality.

A pronoun is a word that stands in place of a noun e.g he, she, it, we, you.

The name of a quality, state of mind, physical condition, idea or action: intelligence, anger, belief, attractiveness, Capitalism.

Name denoting a collective or group of people, animals or things, regarded as a whole: jury, committee, government, team, crowd.

This, that, these, those, the former, the latter.

Me, you, him/her, it, us, you, them.

I, you, he/she, we, you, they.